" A HAT MAKEN GREAT CITIES?"-The question is often asked why it is that such and such a town is improving so very rapidly in point of wealth, position, population, &c. The question is easily answered, and should strike every one at once, and with force. Manufactories are built up and sustained; citizens generally co operate with each other; a spirit of enter prise is stimulated; there are no jealousies or nckerings; merchants and business endeavor to give satisfaction in all of their transactions; trade flows to them from every section, and, consequently, men of capital and enterprise book to that point.

How is it here in Louisville? You will find one merchant jealous of the success of his neighbor; the public prints cry down the town; mercepee ntation is abroad in the land in regard to her position, government, credit, &c . and everything seems to be against her adclothing dealer, corner of Fourth and Main ettrets. He is doing all he can to sustain her reputation, and give credit to her citizens, and, with proper encouragement, will bring her out

A. FONDA, 90 Fourth st,

Arrived at the election ground, there was a glit worth seeing. Apple brandy ruled. There were about as many women as men on the ground. This is a peculiar feature in North Carolina gatherings—the women nearly all attend, and it results beneficially sometimes. ouce saw a fellow get into a fight at one of those elections, while his wife was along with him The front yard of the doggery had been graveled with very coarse gravel. Our hero pulled off his shirt and went in, but was soon made to bite the—gravel. Hero No. 2 jumped on him, but was no sooner on than off, for our first named hero's wife gathered a hoop-pole, and such a lamming ashero No. 2 got it has not been my good fortune to see since. All hands stood off and saw it well done. Hero No. 1 was a sight. Imagine a man's back full of coarse gravel-gouged in through the skin.

In approaching the election ground, young men and women could be seen sitting on logs in [41 the woods, eating ginger-eakes and drinking brandy. Heap of laud to the acre there. One follow jumped out of a shanty there where they

when he would question her she would turn her back upon him, and refuse to answer his interrogatories, because, as she said, "he was old and ugly." She would then turn to the Commonwealth's Attorney, place her arm should be seen to be seen such an amusing scene in a court-room. Mr. Leake's better half is the only one who can resinstate his vanity, after having been told to his face that he was "old and ugly." Mr. Gordon, the Commonwealth's Attorney, must feel highly illutered after receiving such affectionate embraces from such a lovely female.

Enough of Freedom.

A negro boy belonging to Mr. Black, of Bracken county, left his master on Saturday night of week before last, and applied to the conductor of the Underground Railroad for ransporation to some station in Her Mejesty's lominions where he might be free. They wilngly received him, and, after a lew adventures y "field and flood" he arrived before day at Sardinia, his pocket having suffered no little to meet the necessary expenditures. The train, doubtless out of respect to the law and the day, laid by and he was concoaled driving Sunday, and was at night to have made another run, but having seen full enough of their disinterestedness, and realized the treatment he would recro." his thoughts once more turned to his old Kentucky home," and he determined to retrace his steps. He accordingly left his hidingplace and was soon en roule to Augusta. Just fore reaching the ferry he was accosted by one of those sympathizing men, who are ever ready to assist others when they think it will WANTED-TO PURCHASE: pay and questioned as to where he was going; and having told his story, the man proffered to accompany him home. The boy having seen enough of such friends; told him plainly he sched up the grade and $100 demanded for capture. The boy arrived at home about ing on the farm, perfe t'y salisfied by his trip
